Weekly Picks From the Band

Read of the Week

The Economist is an English-language weekly news and international affairs publication owned by The Economist Newspaper Ltd. It takes an editorial stance which is supportive of free trade and globalisation, along with the expansion of government health and education spending, as well as other, more limited forms of governmental intervention. It targets highly educated readers and claims an audience containing many influential executives and policy-makers.

Movie of the Week

Helvetica is an independent feature-length documentary film about typography and graphic design, centered on the typeface of the same name. Directed by Gary Hustwit, it was released in 2007 to coincide with the 50th anniversary of the typeface's introduction in 1957. Its content consists of a history of the typeface interspersed with candid interviews with leading graphic and type designers. The film aims to show Helvetica's beauty and ubiquity, and illuminate the personalities that are behind typefaces. It also explores the rift between modernists and postmodernists, with the latter expressing and explaining their criticisms of the famous typeface.

Album of the Week

Nero is an electronic music duo, best known for producing dubstep and drum and bass. Nero's debut dubstep release was "This Way" in 2008. They won the 2010 Beatport awards for Best Dubstep Act and Best Dubstep Track for "Act Like You Know" in 2009. Nero are working on their debut album, to be named "Welcome Reality" (after the "Me & You" B-Side), signed to MTA Records, owned by Chase & Status. Welcome Reality is the first album by UK dubstep act Nero. It is due to be released on 1 August 2011.

Website of the Week

Click Your Support is an awareness- or fund-raising campaign, powered by social media and customized for each participating organization. We want to help charitable causes to ensure the success of their social marketing initiatives, by empowering them to establish two-way, one-to-one relationships with their audiences on the social Internet. Meanwhile, social media users will be able to support and promote their favorite causes with a single click, while customizing their connection to the organization their involved with.
